

THE GIRL WHO COLLECTED BUTTERFLIES

Boys made fun of her. Girls tended to avoid her. Teachers didn't understand her. Marissa Coton collected butterflies. For her Very Special Project, Marissa took some butterflies and placed a name under each one. To her classmates, the selection appeared to be random. No harm done. But when the children in Marissa's book begin to die in mysterious circumstances, the evidence points to the mysterious girl with black eyes who wears a red bow in her hair. There's method in...

Reader's Opinions

This book is very beautiful and intriguing. At first glance, the title seems to be rather innocent -- just as Marissa, the main character who collects the butterflies. She is just a shy fourteen-year-old girl wearing a red bow in her hair and sometimes around her waist. The book is full of powerful symbols that evoke strange associations....
