Reader's Opinions

"Not a day passes over the earth, but men and women of no note do great deeds, speak great words, and suffer noble sorrows" I was told by my mother that I had to read this book before I died. There have been other books she has told me to read and they haven't been my kind of thing but only one other book she used those exact words and...

This is a book I've read before. In my opinion it is a far better story than Romeo and Juliet. A bit about the author: Charles Reade was born at Ipsden House, Oxfordshire, on Jun 8, 1814. He was educated at Iffley and at Magdalen College, Oxford, entered Lincoln's Inn and was called to the Bar, and then turned to literature, writing...
